

Handy App Technical Review

We reviewed the current functionality of the app and our progress on the final two sprint goals. We all agreed that the app meets our base expectations and that we will have to reconsider adding in a “favorites list” feature. The search feature is running but currently works if the user types in the exact specification.

How to address the favorites list issue? Look into needing a unique signature per device

For the features such as:

- Video links
- Artist Image
- Map link

Are all working exactly as planned. Any image we do not currently have will be filled with a default image and for the miscellaneous page we decided to have that link to the schedule pdf provided by the handy fest website.

The review was carried out by Braxton Dempsey, Surya Singh, Oberon Ilano, Luke Johnson, and Anthony Samuel.

Conclusively, we as a team feel very confident in the products performance. It only needs minor changes, but it will be ready for the final sprint review.
